Location

Broseley is a historic market town in Shropshire with a population of approximately 5,000 people, positioned on the south bank of the Ironbridge Gorge and sharing much of its industrial heritage with nearby Ironbridge. The town lies around 5 miles south of Telford Town Centre and approximately 7 miles north of Bridgnorth, benefitting from good access to the wider Shropshire and West Midlands region.

The Pipemakers Arms occupies a prominent position on the High Street, the town's principal thoroughfare, surrounded by a mix of independent retailers, residential dwellings, and local service operators.

Property Description

The property is a two storey, mid terraced property with a rendered finish, under a pitched tiled roof.

Accommodation

The Pipemakers Arms comprises a traditional public house arranged over basement, ground and first floor. The building presents as a modern two-room operation at ground floor level, served by a U-shaped bar positioned towards the rear of the trading area, with a small external drinking area to the front and rear of the property.

Ancillary accommodation includes; a basement cellar and W/C facilities. To the rear of the property is a single garage and a store room.

Private accommodation is provided across the first floor and comprises; two double-bedrooms, a lounge, a domestic kitchen, a bathroom and large en-suite.

The property has a ground floor external footprint of approximately 1,628 sq ft and occupies a total site area of around 0.037 acres.
