Location

New Barnet is a neighbourhood on the north east side of the London Borough of Barnet. It is a largely residential suburb located east of Chipping Barnet, west of Cockfosters, south of the village of Monken Hadley and north of Oakley Park.

East Barnet Road is dominated by a medium-sized Sainsbury's supermarket surrounded by a cluster of shops and facilities including; PureGym, Tesco Express, Majestic Wine and Screwfix. Several independent cafés and shops also exist on the high street.

The Builders Arms is located on the western side of Albert Road, close to the junction with the A110 East Barnet Road. The pub is only a couple of minutes' walk from New Barnet railway station, which provides frequent Great Northern services into central London (including routes towards Moorgate and King's Cross). The immediate area has seen significant development including the Victoria Quarter, a scheme of over 400 residential units on the former gas works site, immediately opposite the Builders Arms.

Property Description

The Builders Arms is a two-storey part rendered building, of brick construction under a pitched tiled roof. The building also has a single storey extension to its southern boundary under a flat roof.

Accommodation

The property comprises a traditional public house arranged over ground floor. The building presents as a two-room operation at ground floor level, with a front bar and a larger side bar forming the principal trading areas, with an adjoining kitchen to the rear of the bar servery. Customer facilities at ground floor include separate gents and ladies W/Cs and a small entrance hall.

Ancillary accommodation includes; a large beer cellar and a substantial store located in the single storey side extension.

Private accommodation is accessed via the stairwell behind the front bar and and comprises; two double bedrooms, a lounge, an office and bathroom.

Externally the property benefits from a large rear courtyard and substantial part brick and wooden framed covered drinking area.

The property has a total footprint of approximately 2,809 sq ft(including cellar and store) and occupies a total site area of around 0.104 acres.
