Location

Redhill is a major Surrey commuter town within the borough of Reigate & Banstead, benefitting from excellent transport links, a strong retail and service offer, and close proximity to neighbouring centres including Reigate, Horley and Gatwick Airport. The town provides a wide range of national operators, supermarkets, cafés, restaurants and essential amenities, with Redhill Station offering direct rail services to London, Gatwick and the wider South East.

The land is situated off Horley Road in the Earlswood area of Redhill, positioned directly to the west of McDonald's restaurant, with residential properties to the north and Petridgewood Common to the south.

Property Description

Large parcel of woodland to the west of Horley Road in the Earlswood suburb of Redhill amounting to c. 2.364 acres.

Tenure

Freehold. The land is held under Title Number SY703860 and the Title Plan is included on page 3. Note the land edged green has been sold off and does not form part of the land being sold.

Planning & Development

We have been advised that the site is not located within a flood zone, and the adjoining properties are not listed, nor does the site fall within a conservation area. However the site does sit within the Greenbelt. All interested parties must rely on their own enquiries to verify this information.

Surrey County Council - <https://www.surreycc.gov.uk/>

Highways

There is currently no direct access to the land. The land is accessible on foot via the council owned, Petridgewood Common.

There are potential rights of access from the east, but only at such time in the future if McDonald's were to vacate the site. Further details available on request.

Prospective purchasers should undertake their own investigations to ensure the access arrangements are suitable for any proposed uses.
